Another win for EMISIT

emis intellectual technology's latest contract signing shows that they compete through every spectrum of the legal profession.

Announcing their recent win with Edgware firm Richards solicitors, Development Director and Solicitor Chris Spencer said:

“Whilst the large majority of our recent signings have been at the 70+ users part of the profession we're really pleased with our win at Richards as it shows that we are competitive not only on quality and delivery but also on price and rapid deployment.”

Partner Alasdair Begbie is also delighted:

“We knew from the moment that we met emis that they were the right supplier. To be able to integrate our dictation and our case management as easily as we can with Seneca CM was the clincher. We're looking forward to going live and enjoying the benefits”
