R.I.P. YOURCPD LONG LIVE SENECACPD

The popular YourCPD online training service for lawyers, which has several thousand registered users, has now been relaunched as SenecaCPD (www.senecacpd.com).

As well as its existing functionality (including Law Society, Bar Council and ILEX accredited online seminars and a personal training diary) Seneca CPD is now even easier to use and has had 27 new seminars added so far this year.

Back office functionality has also been improved so users can expect even speedier reports and assistance.

Chris Spencer development director of emis intellectual technology commented:

“We wanted to give YourCPD a face-lift and bring it into the Seneca brand.

Now it sits alongside Seneca CM (our contact, file, activity and practice management software) and Seneca EP (our electronic publishing environment) and offers our clients even better and faster facilities”.

To introduce SenecaCPD to existing and new clients those updating their details or registering anew before the end of September 2006 will receive one credit (worth £9 plus VAT) free.
